The fastest way to be very rich is to invest in the right assets." That's one of Gema Goeyardi, MM,MH,CAT,CFTe,MFTA,CWM,CSA,CTA,CFI,CFII,MEII,IGI's statements in his motivational Instagram post. Becoming the CEO and Founder of Astronacci, No. 1 Master of Time Trading, FAA Flight Instructor & Citation V Captain, he started his success story the right way – following his passion. "I started my business with passion. If we love what we do, we will have a long-time vision for it," he said wisely.

From his love and passion in the stock market, Gema stepped into the field with high motivation and dream to put Indonesia in the global map of trading through his Astronacci method – a financial method that combines financial astrology and Fibonacci that could predict the index and price in the stock market. Based on the information on Astronacci.com, the method produced four-dimensional approach that consists of Macro Economy Analysis, Fundamental Analysis, Technical Analysis and Time Forecast through a financial astrology. In 2019, Astronacci was accepted as a research contributor for Bloomberg Terminal professional service platform.

Two of his biggest successes in predicting the market price was the COVID crash prediction and the IHSG price through pre-magazine interview challenges. "Last year, we gave an open research via our YouTube Live that predicted 24th of March 2020 as the bottom index and the price will go upwards since then and it's proven to be true. Another massive prediction is when Forbes challenged me to predict the IHSG back in 2011, three weeks prior to the interview where I stated that in 25th July 2011, the index will reach 4100 and it became a reality as well," told him. Through his success, Gema represented Indonesia in International Federation of Technical Analyst (IFTA) back in 2018 and was invited for the second time to the IFTA conference represented Malaysia Association of Technical Analyst (MATA) in 2020 – both to introduce the Astronacci method.

As the future analyst in financial field, Gema predicted the rapid growth of interest in Indonesia Financial Market. "Let say Indonesia has 280 million people and that means only 5 percent is involved in the field. With COVID-19 global pandemic that causes such disruptive in various fields, many of them started eyeing on this field. Supported with a wide range of investments methods from stocks, forex, commodities even cryptocurrencies, I do believe the investment market will be booming in 10 years," said him. Aside from this good news, Gema also warned crimes will rise and reminds us that there is no easy money in true investment.

As a professional jazz piano player and magician, he holds 5 MURI records as the result of his persistence and hard works. Gema always holds on to the vital key of success in the business – emotional intelligence and discipline. "A successful businessman is one that is always improving, accepting their flaws and never stops upgrading themselves. Meanwhile, a failed businessman is one that is easily satisfied and never improves other people's lives through their fortune," he stated. Defining himself as a persistent person, chasing his dreams and trying to make everything around him better, Gema Goeyardi becomes a living proof of God's grace by earning huge success at a young age and making everyone else's loves filled with fortune.
